Course description

Qualification Master of Science

Field of study Economics, commerce, management and accounting

Course summary Do you want to devise solutions to complex and global business problems? We will teach you how to apply scientific methods in practice and equip you for a successful career in the business world.

Course description The Master's teaches you how to help organizations improve their business and solve complex problems. You will work on these solutions in a challenging, high-tech environment by combining state-of-the-art theory with practical application. In addition to core business courses, you will choose between eight profiles: Innovative Entrepreneurship, Purchasing & Supply Management, Human Resource Management, Marketing & Strategy, Innovation & Technology Management, Financial Management, Business Information Management and Change Management. This gives you unrivalled flexibility in your studies. The programme features academic rigour, practical relevance, a cross-disciplinary perspective and a business-context focus. You'll get the best of both worlds: highly relevant core knowledge focused on the broad scope of the business world and focused expertise in your chosen profile. Organizations are keen to find talented people with the right know-how to tackle complex problems and successfully implement new strategies and business processes. You could embark on a career in consultancy, industry or with an international organization.

Study subjects The common courses are: Accounting & Financial Management, Global Talent Management, Global Strategy & Marketing, Management of Organization, Operations and Technological Innovation. In addition to the core courses, you will take two electives (10 credits) that will allow you to specialise in one of our eight Business Administration fields.
